Re: DON'T GET CAUGHT BY THE TONER-PHONERS!!

From: NancyLee Moore

Recently, there have been several phone calls to La Salle Departments by pirate companies selling Copier Toner—Please be aware of what can happen:

- They ask to speak to the person who orders copier supplies.
- They confirm the make & model of the machine.
- They imply they're the national distributor for your local supplier, offering discounted price.
- If 1 case of toner is ordered, the quantity is doubled by the shipper.
- One month later, the caller notifies the next shipment is about to be released. The pattern continues.
- The resulting Invoice bills at 10 times the actual cost.

Please know that the University's authorized copier maintenance contract includes the cost for copier toner supplies at a discounted rate. Check the ID label on your copier for the phone number of your Service Maintenance Company, and call only that number when toner is needed. If you are not sure of your copier maintenance company, please feel free to call Purchasing at 1863.

Note:

You may also get calls for Laser and Deskjet Printer Toner. La Salle's printer toner contract prices are through Office Basics for Hewlett Packard, Epson, Lexmark, NEC, OEM toners, and for Data Products Remanufactured Toner (approved by IT). Just give Customer Service your Make/Model and they will identify the toner PN.

RE: Academic Convocation, Sunday, October 10, 1999

If you can attend the Convocation and wish to march in the procession, please report to the Concession area on the Mezzanine level of the Hayman Center for vesting. Please report by 2:30 p.m.

The marshals for the procession, Dr. David Cichowicz and Dr. Joseph Ugras, will assist you in forming the line of march in this order:

Instructors
Librarians and Assistant Professors
Associate Professors
Professors
Department Chairs
Administrators

We would like to have all elements of the procession ready to move by 2:55 p.m. Your cooperation in arriving and vesting promptly will be appreciated.

The reception this year will be held in the Blue and Gold Commons of the North Residence Hall complex. The entrance to the Commons is directly across Olney Avenue from the entrance to the Hayman Center parking area.

Thank you.

I am pleased to announce the appointment of Dr. James Butler, Professor of English, as Director of Undergraduate Research. While Dr. Butler will retain his teaching responsibilities, he also will work with faculty and students throughout the University to advance our initiatives in undergraduate research. Specifically, Jim will help us coordinate and promote the many student-faculty research projects already underway in the University, and work with faculty and deans to expand the good work already being done. Jim has quite an impressive record of including students in his own research and I know he is excited about extending and promoting this very important dimension of a La Salle education.

SUBJECT: Model United Nations (MUN)/Open Meeting

LAST CALL FOR FALL 1999 --

We have a few spaces left. Please encourage your students to consider joining us for our final informational meeting on Tuesday, October 19, 1999, at 12:30 pm, in the Multicultural and International Center (1923 Olney Avenue, across from College Hall). Please feel free to join us yourself, as well, at this meeting to learn more about MUN and to meet our students who competed last year.

As its name implies, MUN is a simulation of the United Nations. It is a worldwide system of conferences, mostly in the U.S. but also in other countries, where students represent nations and diplomats in debating current global issues over the course of a day or a few days. La Salle's International Relations Council (the Model UN team) plans to participate in the 33rd annual University of Pennsylvania Model United Nations Conference (UPMUNC), which will be held in November. UPMUNC is the world's largest collegiate conference in the fall semester, with nearly 60 colleges and universities from across the U.S. and Canada (including schools like Harvard, MIT, and the University of California at Berkeley).

Depending on the number of delegates a school sends (a few send more than 50), schools are assigned a country or countries to represent and individual delegates are assigned to committees. To prepare for the conference, students do research on the country they are representing and write position papers on the two or three issues before their respective committees. Awards are given for outstanding delegates and delegations. The experience does wonders for students – helping them develop their critical thinking, communication, and interpersonal skills, their base of knowledge, enthusiasm for learning, etc.

This past Spring our team was comprised of ten students who represented Swaziland at the National Model United Nations Conference in New York City. The students are now looking forward to the UPMUNC conference in November.

Please feel free to call (951-1948) or write (emshomba@lasalle.edu or Box 406 through Campus Mail) for more information. Thanks.

LA SALLE READING GROUP'S NEXT PICK:

EUGENE O'NEILL'S

LONG DAY'S J.O.U.R.N.E.Y INTO NIGHT

This work is interesting enough for its history. Completed in 1940, Long Day's Journey Into the Night is an autobiographical play Eugene O'Neill wrote that--because of the highly personal writing about his family--was not to be released until 25 years after his death, which occurred in 1953. But since O'Neill's immediate family had died in the early 1920s, his wife allowed publication of the play in 1956. Besides the history alone, the play is fascinating in its own right.

It tells of the "Tyrones"--a fictional name for what is clearly the O'Neills. Theirs is not a happy tale: The youngest son (Edmond) is sent to a sanitarium to recover from tuberculosis; he despises his father for sending him; his mother is wrecked by narcotics; and his older brother by drink. In real-life these factors conspired to turn O'Neill into who he was--a tormented individual and a brilliant playwright. Amazon.com

An Interactive Workshop
Thursday, October 28
3:30 - 5:00 p.m.

The Art Museum--Lower Level--Olney Hall

Spend an afternoon at our own University Art Museum with Sabrina DeTurk, Jim Butler, and Joe Dougherty. You don't have to leave campus to see a collection of European and American Art that spans the Middle Ages to the Twentieth Century as well as Japanese prints, Indian miniatures and African tribal art.

Over the years, faculty across the University have used the resources of the museum to enrich their teaching. The workshop will show you ways to incorporate the Art Museum resources into your classroom. If you've never visited the museum, the workshop can be your introduction. If the museum is an "old friend", come explore new ways of looking at it as a teaching resource.

Sponsored by the Teaching and Learning Center

Due to space constraints, workshop enrollment must be limited to 20 participants. Please return the attached form to Jeannie Welsh Box 332, email welsh@lasalle.edu, or phone x 1883 if you plan to attend.

I plan to attend the October 28 workshop at the Art Museum.

Again this year, I am selling "SAFE SPACE" stickers in commemoration of National Coming Out Day (10-11-99) for $1 apiece. These stickers are produced by GLSEN (Gay, Lesbian, Straight Education Network) whose mission is "Teaching respect for all in our schools."

In July of 1998 James Byrd of Texas was dragged to death from the back of a truck simply because he was African-American. In October of 1998 Matthew Shepard of the University of Wyoming was beaten to death because he was gay. And our own campus has been recently outraged and defiled with racist and homophobic graffiti. You may purchase a sticker to show your support of a nurturing and welcoming academic community at La Salle by designating some area under your charge as a "SAFE SPACE."

Email me at ratkus@lasalle.edu or contact me at Box 319, Campus Mail to arrange for payment and sticker(s).

To: All Faculty Members

From The Campus Store

We will begin to return textbooks to the publishers on October 29th. If there are books for your course that you will not be using until later in the semester, please let us know and we will return them at a later date. Please e-mail me at kellyk@lasalle.edu or leave a message at x1704 listing the titles you would like us to hold. Thank you for your continued cooperation.

Sincerely,

Cathy Kelly

The Campus Store

Dear Faculty Member:

We have distributed to your department chairperson the spring Course Book Information Request forms. We are requesting a return of these forms with your spring course material needs by October 22 1999.

Of course, we would be happy to take your book information by phone, fax, e-mail, in person, or via the mail.

We are Y2K compliant but are unsure about over 20,000 Publishers and freight carriers.

Giving us your textbook information early reduces potential problems caused by Y2K and other common textbook problems such as publisher's shipping delays and errors, and out of stock situations. In addition, having your request will allow us to pay a higher price to students when they sell their books at the end of the current term. Your prompt response helps ensure that the materials needed for your students will be on the shelf before classes begin in January.

If I may be of any assistance, please contact me at x1397, fax 215-951-1069 or my e-mail address of kellyk@lasale.edu. We are here to help.

Sincerely,

EXPLORERS

CAMPUS POSITIONS AVAILABLE

LA SALLE UNIVERSITY IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY/AFFIRMATIVE ACTION EMPLOYER

Faculty Position

Education. The Department of Education seeks to fill one full-time, tenure track position in its combined elementary & special education and secondary teacher preparation programs beginning September, 2000. Program themes focus on child and adolescent development and the integration of regular and special education. The University seeks faculty who will make immediate contributions through innovative teaching, collaborative supervision of student teachers, and collegial participation in program development.

Preferred candidates will have an earned doctorate in education (specialization open), and should be prepared to teach in their specialization area and in general education courses. Preference given to candidates with experience in teacher preparation, program administration, and educational research. Minimum three years K-12 classroom teaching experience. ABD considered.

Salary competitive. Send application letter, curriculum vitae, official transcripts, and three current references to:

Dr. Carole Freeman
Chair, Education Search Committee
La Salle University
Dept. of Education
1900 W. Olney Avenue
Philadelphia, PA 19141-1199

Review of applications will be begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. La Salle University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer.

POSITION AVAILABLE

SERVICE-LEARNING ASSOCIATE

The Community Learning Center seeks a Service-Learning Associate. The S-L Associate will, along with the Director of the Community Learning Center, work with faculty and students in the development of service-learning at the university. This includes recruiting faculty and students, developing necessary materials, and maintaining a database.

This is a grant funded September through May twenty hour per week position through the Philadelphia Higher Education Network for Neighborhood Development (PHENND). The position is renewable for a second academic year following a successful first year.

A bachelor's degree is required in education, the social sciences, or a related field. Experience in and a solid working knowledge of campus-based service-learning programs is essential. Good leadership and interpersonal skills including the ability to interact effectively with diverse constituencies. Program management experience and good organizational skills are important. Computer literacy is essential as well as excellent written and oral communication skills.
